

ECONOMIC FREEDOM NETWORK: Annual Conference
September 3-5, 2016 -- Lake Bled, Slovenia

2016 Economic Freedom Network PAPER CONTEST
„Which Way to the Economic Freedom Revolution?“

This year's paper contest theme is "Which Way to the Economic Freedom Revolution?" Authors are invited to present their ideas for a visible increase of economic freedom in their country, or in a certain group of countries, and to analyse consequences that will follow. The papers should contain a brief overview of the topic and the methodology employed in the paper, followed by the recommendations and analysis of the impact of an increase of economic freedom.

- The Economic Freedom Network Paper Contest is open to all individuals.
- The entrants should write a 4,000-6,000 words paper.
- Paper titles & abstracts are due on August 3, while full papers are due on August 10, 2016. Both paper titles & abstracts and full papers should be submitted to Fred McMahon at fred.mcmahon@fraserinstitute.org and Tanja Porčnik at tanja.porcnik@visio-institut.org.
- Papers must be submitted in English only.
- Papers will be judged by an international panel of Visio scholars.
- The winners will be announced on August 15, 2016.

Authors of winning papers will present their papers at the 2016 Economic Freedom Network Annual Meeting to be held September 3-5, 2016 at Lake Bled, Slovenia. All submitted papers will be considered for publication after the 2016 EFN meeting.
